NEWSPAPER MEN INDICTED

Grand Jury Acts on the Cases of Edwards and Shriver.

TRIAL POSTPONED TILL PALL

Probability that the Senate Committee Will Submit Three Reports-Allen Has Opinions of His Own-Lodge's Sweeping Denial of a Sugar Stocks Story.

The grand jury at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon came into criminal court No. 2, Judge Cole, and through its foreman, Louis Hilbourn, presented indictments against newspaper correspondents John S. Shriver, of the New York Mail and Express, and E. J. Edwards, of the Philadelphia Press.

The newspaper men were in court when the grand jury came in.

The indictments were worded like those returned against Messrs, Macartney and Chapman, the recalcitrant brokers. After District Attorney Birney had spoken to the court in reference to the indictments and the amount of bail to be given Messrs. Shriver and Edwards were permitted to give bonds in $1,000 each. Robert J. Wynne, of the Cincinnant Tribune, signed for John S. Shriver, and George W. Rouner, of the New York Herald, gave bail on behalf of E. J. Edwards.

Judge Cole stated that the counsel for the defendants could appear in court about the middle of August and enter demurrer. Judge Dittenderfer, counsel for Shriver and Edwards, was not present, but it was stated that he would be in court at the time designated for the trial of the cases.

INDICTATIENTS ARE SIMILAR.

The indictments set out, as in the cases of the other indicted witnesses, by giving the history of the tariff bill, the formation of the Senate sugar investigating committee, and the causes which led to the committee's action, chauses which led to the committee's action,
causes which led to the committee's action,
cause of the bill, the formation of the Senate sugar investigating committee, and the causes which led to the committee's action. Clippings from newspapers bearing on the sugar trust scandal are shown, as also the letters seen by the indicted correspondents to their respective papers. The questions asked both Messrs, Shriver and Edwards are also printed, and the refusals noted of the questions which they declined to answer.

Mr. Shriver refused to make known the name of the Congressman who had given him information concerning the sugar trust at the Arlington hotel conference. Mr. Elwards refused to answer certain questions which would have caused him to betray the sources from which he also received information that led to the publication of the articles on the sugar trust in his paper.

The cases against Mesars. Havemeyer and Treasurer Searles will go over, as the grandjury were excused by Judge Cole immediately after the Indictments were presented and will not meer again until September 2 next. agreed under certain contingencies to adjourn until next week.

Senator Gray, chairman of the committee, said that it had latterly been found impossible for the committee to transact any business while the Senate was considering the tariff bill. "The report to be made to the Senate," he said, "is now prepared and probably will be ready for presentation as soon at the full committee can pass upon it. The report, when made, will be brief. The testimony is the best report, and that has already been given to the public."

NO STARTLING FEATURES.

NO STARTLING PEATURES. He further stated that outside of the refusal of witnesses to answer questions the testimony in his opinion developed no especially interesting or startling features, and intimated that the report would do little more than call attention to the fact.

The prospects now are that there will be three reports, one by Senators Gray and Lindsay, the Democratic members of the committee: another by Senators Davis and Lodge, and the third by Senator Alien, the Populist

The other four members of the committee discussed the subject matter of the prospective reports for an hour or more yesterday, and while the question has not progressed so far that the Republican Senators have decided definitely to present a separate report there is little room or doubt that they will do so.

AFTER THE GARBAGE MAN.

Citizens of Georgetown Complain, but Get

Citizens of Georgetown are after the garbage man. They are indignant that the contractor should permit his drivers to convey a cartload of festering refuse through the streets in this superheated weather with lids wide open, and they are amazed and more than indignant that when the attention of the drivers is called to the matter they should receive an insolent, insulting response. They complain to the police, but, as is claimed, un-der the interpretation of the ordinance given by Judge Kimball not long ago, the officers by Judge Kimball not long ago, the officers are powerless to prevent it.

Complaints keep coming in to Lieutenant Swindells at the police station, and occasionally an officer remonstrates with a driver, only to have have his admonition ignored. One of the men r sleased by Judge Kimball, when advised since to keep his cart closed, informed the officer that if arrested he would beat him severing, as he did before.

A complaint that was filed yesterday was from Mrs. Robert B. Tenny, of No. 3108 Q street northwest. Mrs. Tenny says that on one occasion she politely asked a driver to close his cart while passing her residence on account of the effect of the herrible odors upon a sick member of her family, but he impudently told her he would leave the lid up when he saw fit, and that he would not close it until he had dinished that square.

BUSINESS MEN WHO PAVOR IT

Other cities not as large as Washington are constantly extending and improving, and the capital city of the country should be in front and not at the rear of progress. One thing we should have is plenty of water—good water. I am in favor of the loan, and the sooner the expenditure is begun the better."

J. W. Shinky, dealer in clothing and boots and shoes, No. 1905 Pennsylvinia avenue northwest: "I am in favor of it. I believe it will be a benefit to the city. I believe one-half the sickness of the city is caused by bad sewage. I believe in giving the workingman something to do, and that will put money in circulation."

GEORGE E. BURNS, grocer and produc dealer, corner of Twenty-sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest: "I believe It would be a proper thing to do. It is good one way, and may be bad another. It would give employment to people, but the taxpayers will have to pay the expenses, and it may prove to be a hard bill to meet. But the advantages are in giving working people something to do while times are hard, and in adding needed improvements for the benefit of the city and the health of the people. Considering everything, I think it ought to be done. There is one thing to be considered, and that is that the heavy taxpayers who own property are generally able to get along when times are dull, but the laboring people often have trouble and find it difficult to pay rents and keep up other expenses. Anything that can be properly done to prevent or relieve distress I am in favor of." it would be a proper thing to do. It is good to sewers, are needed. Just look at Rock creek. I was crossing the bridge last Sunday and the stench was awful. There is a matter that needs attention immediately, and a part of the money obtained by the loan should be expended in that work. A half a million dollars could be spent there with profit, and the land that could thus be reclaimed would more than pay the expense. If something is not soon done we'll have cholera here or somethinglelse as bad."

N. HILLIAID, dealer in wood and coal, No. 1744 Pennsylvania avenue northwest: "I always believe in making improvements where it can be done judiciously. It is a question, however, whether the increase in taxation that would result from the interest on this loan and its repayment can be safely assumed just now."

"Think of it," said the young wife, "we used to envy her."
"It was I who envied her," cried Pierre,
"you who said that love, not money, brought happiness; and it is so."
"Yes," she said absently; her eyes were not on him, but on the balcony opposite, where a black-robed figure paced slowly to and fro.
The church was crowded to suffocation; the ceremonics attendant upon the solemn function known as "taking the veil" were wont to be impressive; a fashionable audience always witnessed them; to-day offered no exception to the rule. Aside from the religious features, rumor had whisperted that a young girl of walth and beauty—none other indeed than Jeanne do la Maure, the belle of many a ballroom—was to renounce the "pomps and vanities of this woked world" forever.
